Methodist Hospital's

Pediatric Grand Rounds Lecture Series

These lectures are designed to provide a core curriculum for Primary Care physicians and Residents about the practical application and new knowledge in pediatric medicine. Faculty will present a variety of clinical topics emphasizing common issues involving evaluation, diagnosis, management and treatment of pediatric problems.

Regularly attending these lectures will allow participants to be able to:

- Apply advances in prevention, diagnosis and treatment of pediatric disease
- Review sociological and population health changes that impact pediatric care
- Implement recommended models of care and patient care guidelines
